>> DEADLINES

DRP Accommodation Deadlines

Do you have a documented disability and need accommodations, but didn't register or complete the registration process with the Disability Resource Program (DRP) in the fall? Or, do you think you might have an undiagnosed disability, or are you receiving treatment for or in the process of getting diagnosed with Depression, Anxiety, ADHD, a Learning Disability or any other so-called "hidden" or "invisible" disability? DON'T WAIT TO CONTACT DRP TO REQUEST ACCOMMODATIONS! By law and to ensure the integrity of the program, registering with DRP to determine eligibility and accommodations must be an interactive, deliberative and collaborative process. At a minimum, this includes (1) meeting with the Director for a comprehensive eligibility and access planning meeting (a.k.a., an intake meeting), and (2) reviewing relevant documentation. It is not meant to be an onerous process, but IT TAKES TIME. Therefore, students are urged to contact DRP at DRP@uchastings.edu or 415-565-8948 at the very beginning of the semester to initiate this process. Students are advised to schedule an intake appointment to occur no later than FRIDAY, JANUARY 29, 2016 for timely consideration of classroom-based accommodation requests for the spring semester. The deadline for completing your registration with DRP is MONDAY, MARCH 28, 2016 – but if you haven't begun the process well in advance of that date, you may be too late to receive accommodations for final exams. Please refer to the UC Hastings website at <http://www.uchastings.edu/about/admin-offices/disability-resource-program/index.php> for more information.

Bar/MPRE Accommodations & Deadlines

Are you a 2L, 3L, or LLM student with a documented disability who intends to request accommodations on the MPRE or Bar Exam? You will need forms from the Disability Resource Program (DRP) verifying whether or not you received accommodations in law school. Below are some upcoming deadlines, but realize that the process usually takes significant time and energy, so you should start much earlier. The State Bar of California recommends that students with disabilities file their petition no later than three months prior to the examination they intend to take, i.e., by the end of April 2016 for the July 2016 exam (by the end of November 2015 for February 2016). Get more information and documentation recommendations on our website by following the links to and on our Accommodations Overview Page.

Take Steps NOW to Minimize Your Student Loan Payments Later!

It is time to file your 2015 tax returns. Even if you made very little (or no) money in 2015 and are not required to file a tax return, you should consider filing 2015 taxes, if you:

- Are borrowing Federal loans for law school, and
- Are planning on taking advantage of Income Driven Repayment (IDR)* plans (and the Federal Public Service Loan Forgiveness Program and our Public Interest Career Assistance Program – PICAP) to lower your monthly loan payments.

Having a 2015 Tax Return on file could make applying for IDR much simpler for you. (Also, if you are owed a tax withholding refund, you will need to file taxes to receive the refund!). Free tax assistance is available to students through the VITA Program (Feb. 8, 22, 29) (March 14, 21, 28) (April 4, 11) in the Louis B. Mayer Lounge 5:00-7:00 p.m. To learn more about how to file your Federal Taxes for FREE (and your income is less below $62,000), click here: <https://www.irs.gov/uac/Free-File:-Do-Your-Federal-Taxes-for-Free>.

Contact the Financial Aid Office if you have any questions about IDR or Loan Forgiveness programs.

 IDR plans are federal student loan repayment plans that set a monthly payment based on your current income and family size. Payments under these plans are generally lower than payments under a Standard Repayment Plan. Your loan servicer will calculate your monthly payment amount each year based on information from your tax returns, if you have two on file, or alternative documents such as a combination of one tax return and a W-2, two W-2s or current paystubs.*

Summer 2016 Arc of Justice Fellowship Program

Public Advocates and the Charles Houston Bar Association (CHBA) are proud to announce a new summer 2016 fellowship opportunity for law students committed to advancing the legal and policy priorities of low-income African American communities in the Bay Area. The “Arc of Justice” is a collaboration between Public Advocates and CHBA to help increase the number of law students of color who pursue careers in public interest law. This first Arc fellow will spend the summer clerking at Public Advocates, with dedicated support from CHBA.

The fellow will leverage Public Advocates and CHBA’s networks and professional development resources and will be exposed to public interest practitioners representing a wide variety of legal fields. In addition, the fellow will establish a meaningful connection with other summer law clerks and attorneys at other public interest legal organizations, minority bar associations, and private law firms or corporations.

The Arc of Justice Fellowship comes with a minimum $3,000 stipend. In order to promote diversity in public interest law, it is our intention that this stipend supplement, rather than offset, other funding sources.

Applications are being accepted on a rolling basis, for more information, visit www.publicadvocates.org and www.charleshoustonbar.org.

Presentation by Lauren Keller (Studio Legale at Jacobacci & Associati in Italy) & Professor Beldiman

After providing a brief summary of the framework of European law and courts, the presentation will discuss an important decision of Europe's highest court regarding whether a maker of spare parts for automobiles may use an automaker's trademark on the spare parts in order to make an exact copy of the original part.

Upcoming UC Hastings Journal Symposiums in February!

Thursday, 2/18/2016: Hastings International and Comparative Law Review Presents: Human Rights and Sustainable Development in an Era of Free Trade

As the deterioration of the global environment increasingly threatens human health and human life, scholars and activists increasingly see an inextricable link between the preservation of the environment and the promotion of human rights. Additionally, the increased attention to the linkages between human rights and the environment coincide with the negotiation of major regional trade deals, including the Trans Pacific Partnership ("TPP").

These three moments and agendas are linked in multiple cross-cutting, convergent and contradictory ways. Are trade goals, for instance, compatible or necessarily at cross-purposes with the SDGs and efforts to address climate change? A structured conversation among scholars and practitioners working in all three areas can enrich our understanding of each of them and of the overall goal of sustainable, human rights-respecting development.

Friday, 2/26/2016: STLJ & Comm/Ent Symposium: "Programming the Law: Privacy, Security, and Innovation", 9:30am-4:00pm (Reception to follow)

The Hastings Science and Technology Law Journal (STLJ) and Hastings Communication and Entertainment Law Journal (Comm/Ent) are pleased to present, "Programming the Law: Privacy, Security, and Innovation" on February 26, 2016 at UC Hastings College of the Law.

This symposium will bring together policymakers, legal scholars, attorneys, and privacy advocates to collectively consider the future of privacy in important areas such as: Transatlantic Data Transfer, Internet of Things (IoT), and Dark Web/Anonymity. The event will have a particular focus on the latest developments in the US-EU Safe Harbor Framework, the roles of startups and businesses in the expansion of IoT into homes, and the evolving jurisprudence around the privacy right to anonymity.

Together we will explore the questions surrounding how such data should be stored, managed, and protected as our everyday life becomes increasingly digitized. The event is free, open to the public, and MCLE and CPE credit will be offered to practicing attorneys and privacy professionals. We hope to see you there!
