Spring 2018 Experiential Opportunities – Clinics and Externships

As you plan to register in mid-November for Spring 2018 classes, consider our renowned clinics and externship programs, where you can earn academic credit while gaining lawyering experience under the supervision of full-time clinical faculty, practicing attorneys, or judges committed to your professional development.

- In most clinics, students take lead responsibility for representing real clients from start-to-finish under the supervision of experienced Hastings clinical faculty, who select appropriate cases and provide support and detailed feedback. An accompanying academic course integrates training in relevant substantive law and the skills (e.g., interviewing, counseling, fact development, negotiating, etc.) in which students will engage, as well as grounded discussions that help students reflect on their fieldwork and role as lawyers.
- In externships (also known as field placements), students work on assignments in bustling, real-world government agencies and non-profit law offices under the supervision of attorneys who supervise and provide feedback on students' work. A linked academic course, taught by Hastings faculty, encourages students to reflect on what they are learning from their fieldwork assignments and how to work most effectively with their site supervisors.

For a complete overview of each of these courses, their prerequisites, units, and detailed descriptions, visit <http://www.uchastings.edu/academics/clinical-programs/clinics/index.php> or follow the links below to learn more about specific clinics and field placement programs. Many clinics hold mandatory information sessions, so check their webpages and watch the Weekly for announcements of the dates and times.

Five of the Clinics listed below use a Common Clinic Application, available on Canvas, and strive to synchronize the timing of admission decisions. Applications are reviewed on a rolling basis, with priority decisions given to applications received by November 10th at noon.
