>> ANNOUNCEMENTS

IMPORTANT: Possible Chicken Pox Exposure on Campus
Chicken pox continues to occur sporadically on college campuses and elsewhere in our community. A case has occurred on Hastings campus recently.
While the symptoms of chicken pox or varicella are usually mild in children, adults are more likely than children to develop complications. Each year, a few thousand people are hospitalized and about 50 die due to chicken pox. Prior to the use of the chicken pox vaccine, the complications of chicken pox were much more common.

Chicken pox may spread more easily in a college/graduate student living environment than in other settings.

A vaccine is available, and the CDC (Center for Disease Control) and ACHA (American College Health Association) both recommend that all college and graduate students who have not had chicken pox should be vaccinated against the disease. In 2007, the CDC and ACHA guidelines were revised to recommend two doses of vaccine (instead of one dose). Many students were vaccinated under the older guidelines and have not received the second immunization. Students are encouraged to review their immunization records and obtain the second immunization, if appropriate.

You are considered immune to chicken pox, and therefore do not need additional vaccination, if any of the following apply:

- Receipt of two doses of chicken pox (varicella) vaccine
- Previous diagnosis of chicken pox or herpes zoster (shingles) by a healthcare provider
- A blood test that shows immunity to chicken pox (varicella)
- You were born and raised in the United States before 1980 (this does not apply to healthcare workers, pregnant women, and immunocompromised people, who must meet one of the other criteria)

All others should be immunized.

Varicella (Chicken Pox) vaccines are available and covered by UC SHIP and other health insurance policies. Students with UC SHIP can be referred to UCSF SHS to receive the varicella vaccine for free. Please call Hastings Student Health Services at 415 565 4612 in order to obtain a referral for vaccination at UCSF SHS or with any questions or concerns.

More information is available at CDC Chickenpox Information.

1L Moot Court Informational Meeting

Tuesday, March 31st, 2015 // LBM, 12:00-1:00pm

Calling all future champions! The Moot Court Competition Team will be holding an informational session Tuesday, 3/31 from 12:00-1:00 p.m. in the LBM Lounge. Pizza will be provided.

Topics will include: How do you apply to become a member of our hardware-laden team? Can you do and have it all in your second year? (The answer: an emphatic YES! And we’ll tell you how). What is Appellate Advocacy and the Snodgrass Competition? What types of competitions would I have the opportunity to do? We will also reserve time for questions and be available on Thursday, 4/2 during BOB (again, equipped with pizza to go with your beer and two-buck Chuck) to answer any others you can drum-up.

If you have any questions, please contact Co-Chairs, Joy Siu, at siuj@uchastings.edu or Vincent Lee, at leevin@uchastings.edu.

1Ls! Journals Information Session & Open House

Monday, April 6th, ARC & Journals Offices

Please join the Journals on Monday, April 6 to learn everything you need and want to know about the Journal Write-On and recruitment process!

We will cover a variety of helpful topics, including:

- how to perform well on the Write-On,
- how to select a Journal that is a fit for you, and
- how Journal membership can contribute to your experiential education and professional development.

The gatherings on April 6 will be casual and catered to your concerns and interests. The schedule for those gatherings is as follows:

3:30–4:30, ARC: Inter-Journal Writing Competition (Write-On) 101 and Journal Ask Anything

Learn what to expect on the Write-On from incoming Journal leadership and Journal members who created this year’s prompt.
For Write-On 101, we will present a previous writing prompt and a sample editing prompt, and we will provide tips on how to navigate that tricky Bluebook.

The rest of the meeting will be a Journal Ask Anything dedicated to any other questions you may have about Journal, generally.

5:00–6:30, McAllister Tower, 22nd and 23rd Floors: Journal Open House
Join us for the annual Journal Open House to learn about specific Journals, chat with various Journal members, and visit our individual offices. Enjoy refreshments and mingle with peers in an informal setting.

We look forward to meeting you!
