

The National Center for Lesbian Rights in San Francisco is seeking spring and summer law clerks to assist with all aspects of its national impact litigation, public policy, and educational work. Law clerks assist attorneys with research and writing regarding our pending litigation, which includes a wide range of issues related to LGBT people and their families, handle intake calls, and research, draft and/or update publications. Work study funds are available. NCLR also assists students in obtaining outside funding.

Application deadlines are rolling but early submissions are encouraged.

Please send resume, cover letter, transcript, and writing sample to:
