legal services to people in New Orleans.

Suggested donation: $2 for students, $5 for non-students. No one turned away for lack of funds.

Law Students for Choice

Law Students For Choice will be promoting National Black HIV/AIDS Awareness Day on Wednesday, February 7th at 12:40 in the tenderloin. We will be passing out information on safety and how to prevent the transmission of HIV/AIDS. Come help out for an hour (or less), and spread an important message in the community. Meet on the beach at 12:30.

Pilipino American Law Society (PALS) Welcomes You to Their First General Meeting

Wednesday, Feb. 7 @ 12:40, Room B
Now is the perfect time to start getting involved! Bring a friend!

Community Clean Team 2007 Kickoff

Ever wish you could frolic in a clean UN Plaza as you admire freshly planted trees? OF COURSE YOU HAVE. The Environmental Law Society and ASUCH invite you to join the "Community Clean Team's" kickoff on Saturday, 2/10/07 from 9:00 am to noon at UN Plaza and Boeddeker Park [Jones & Eddy]. Volunteers will participate in tree planting, litter pick up, graffiti clean up, and spreading sunshine and cheer to the Tenderloin. For more info, go to www.sfcleancity.com or call 552-9201.

FREE LATIN AND SWING DANCE CLASSES!

Every Monday at 4:45, come meet people and learn some basic Latin and Swing dance moves! No partner or experience necessary. Classes will be held at San Francisco Dance Center, just one block from campus on 7th and Market. Enter at 26 7th Street and take the elevator to the 5th floor. Questions? Email Kakuti at link@uchastings.edu.

Legion of Honor Tours

Because of the number of students who have expressed an interest in the SF museum tours, Suzanne Park, Hastings' curator and museum docent, has offered to conduct two tours of the permanent collection of the Legion of Honor. The tours will be on two Sundays, February 25 and March 4 at 10:30 AM. The Legion of Honor is located at 100 34th St. in Lincoln Park, SF.

15 students will be able to attend each tour at no cost (admission and tour free). The tour will last a little over an hour, and then you may remain to visit the rest of the museum, stay for lunch, whatever.

The students will be selected by random drawing. If you wish to have your name entered in the drawing, please email Judy Chapman (chapmanj@uchastings.edu) by Tuesday 2/13 at the latest. Indicate which dates you are available to participate in the tours. Also, include your email address and phone number. Winners will be notified by Wednesday 2/21.

Commencement Speakers

Congratulations to the following who were elected to speak at our Commencement on May 20, 2007.

Thom Neale, Student Speaker
Prof. Reuel Schiller, Faculty Speaker

9th Annual Trina Grillo Public Interest And Social Justice Law Retreat

Justice Across Borders
Seattle University School of Law
March 9-10, 2007

Participants will focus on public interest lawyering that crosses international boundaries, with emphasis on the challenges and satisfaction of representing clients who are not U.S. citizens.

The keynote speaker will be Brandt Goldstein, author of Storming the Court, the compelling story of the law students and human rights advocates who filed suit against the first Bush and Clinton administrations to free HIV-positive Haitian refugees detained at Guantanamo Bay during the 1990s.

Funds are available to offset some of the travel costs to attend the Grillo Retreat. If you are interested in applying for travel funds, complete a request form (available in Student Services, room 350 of the Tower) preferably by Weds. 2/7.

New Student Org: Hastings Running Club

PURPOSE: To encourage healthy living and mind-body balance through regular athletic activity; to advance philanthropic causes through participation in races raising donations for charitable purposes; to promote a positive image of Hastings to the larger SF Bay Area community through involvement in charity races and events, and to foster a sense of community at Hastings by offering students the opportunity to participate in healthful social activities.

CONTACT: Nadim Hegazi
hegazin@uchastings.edu

Student Health Services

All Hastings students are eligible to use Student Health Services at no charge. Student Health Services is paid for by your student health services fee, which is separate from any insurance fees. Short term counseling appointments with psychiatrists are available by appointment daily. Please feel free to take advantage of short term counseling and other services provided by SHS. Call 565-8813 to make an appointment.

Judicial Externships

Second-year students: There are many opportunities for summer 2007 and fall 2007 judicial externships. You can earn academic credit and gain experience by working (without pay) as a student-law clerk to a judge. The application process is very simple. Please inquire in the Clinical Programs Office, Room 404, 198 McAllister for further information.

Records

The Spring '07 Exam Schedule is now final. You will find it on page 10 of the Hastings Weekly. (An alphabetic listing of exam dates will be on the Records website later this week.) Exam numbers are available in the Records Office. Don't forget to pick up your spring exam number before your first exam.

All Campus Read

February 13
3:40 p.m., Room D
198 Bldg.

Professor Joan Williams will discuss her book entitled, Unbending Gender: Why Family and Work Conflict and What to Do About It.

Hastings Law Journal Elects New EIC

The Hastings Law Journal is pleased to announce that Jennifer Luczkowiak has been elected Editor-in-Chief for the 2007-2008 school year. Please join us in congratulating Jenn on her achievement!

HELP WANTED RESEARCH ASSISTANTS

Professor John Malone, working with the Hastings Civil Justice Clinic, is looking for two students to conduct background research for use by HALT - An Organization of Americans for Legal Reform (<http://www.halt.org>) The research would relate to a forthcoming publication by HALT called Protecting Consumer Choice: A Guide for Nonlawyer Legal Service Providers (a working title). The interns would focus their research on examining the changes in restrictions on the delivery of legal services by nonlawyers over the past two decades. The study would begin this fall and continue into the spring. It is anticipated that at least one full-time and one half-time student will be hired, depending on whether the student(s) are work-study eligible. Please submit a resume and cover letter and cover letter to Professor John Malone, University of California, Hastings College of the Law, 200 McAllister St., San Francisco, CA 94102-4978, by Wednesday, February 14. You may also submit your resume and cover letter by e-mail to: malonej@uchastings.edu.

COLLEGE RELATIONS SEEKING STUDENTS

Fundraising Student Assistant
8+ hours per week
$12.29 (Work-study position)
The College Relations Office has one work-study position available for the remainder of the 2006-07 school year, with summer employment possible, but not required. We are seeking applicants with excellent communication skills and enthusiasm for Hastings to work with the 1066 Foundation Director to plan and implement fundraising efforts for the law school. Interested students should email a resume, including contact information and availability schedule, to Gerti Arnold at arnoldg@uchastings.edu as soon as possible. Please consider joining our team!

SPANISH AND VIETNAMESE INTERPRETERS

The Hastings Civil Justice Clinic is representing some clients this semester whose primary language is not English. For the moment, we need help with Spanish language interpreters - especially on the weekends; and Vietnamese language interpreters who could travel to San Jose for interpretations (travel costs included). Please email Nancy Jacot-Bell at: jacotbel@uchastings.edu or call (415) 557-7887. CJC will be able to compensate Hastings students at the rates paid by the College for student employees. Open to 1Ls, 2Ls, & 3Ls.

PAID SUMMER RESEARCH JOBS!!

LWR and Moot Court will be hiring Research Assistants for Summer 2007 began on January 16, 2007 and will continue until all the positions are filled. RAs are paid hourly for their work, and full-time and half-time positions are available. Summer work consists of preparation for the next year's LWR, Moot Court, LLM and App. Ad. classes including handbooks, memos, and research projects. Students must be available on Friday mornings for weekly meetings, otherwise work hours are flexible. This is a great opportunity to improve your skills and writing in a friendly, informal and supportive office setting. Interested students should submit a resume, writing sample and cover letter to Toni Young indicating whether you are available for full-time or part-time work and listing your GPA and LWR grade. An interview will be scheduled after we receive the requested information. Questions? Please contact either Toni Young or Professor Lois Schwartz.

RESEARCH ASSISTANT FOR PROFESSOR ROGER PARK

Professor Roger Park needs research assistance for evidence topics. Research assistants will work 5-10 hours per week until at least the end of the semester. Please leave a resume, grade transcript, and anything else you wish him to consider (such as a writing sample) in his mailbox in the Sutro room on the 3d floor of the 198 building. Please state whether you are eligible for work-study.

Deadline: Position open until filled.

STUDENT COMPUTER SUPPORT ASSISTANT (IT Dept.)

The Information Technology department is looking for a student with computer skills who would like to work in an exciting, fast-paced environment. Work-study preferred, but not required. Flexible hours based on your course schedule. Job responsibilities include basic computer support such as software and hardware installation and troubleshooting, helping other students, staff and faculty with computer problems. Please contact Ron Proschan (email: proschan@uchastings.edu, phone 565-4783).

SUMMER RESEARCH ASSISTANT POSITIONS AVAILABLE WITH DISTINGUISHED PROF. JOAN C. WILLIAMS, CENTER FOR WORKLIFE LAW

Under the supervision of and reporting to the Director and the Faculty Fellow of the Center for WorkLife Law, the Research Assistant is responsible for assisting in the work of the Center and the Project for Attorney Retention. Duties include: conducting legal research and writing about issues related to WorkLife Law, including research on employment law issues related to family caregiver discrimination; assisting the Faculty Fellow and Director with their research and writing of academic and popular articles about the Center's research; helping to develop public education and training materials for the Center to use in its work and on its website; and performing other related duties and responsibilities as assigned. For more information, see www.worklifelaw.org and www.pardc.org.

Open to first-, second-, and third- year law students, with a strong preference for students who have taken a course on employment discrimination. Must be proficient in both traditional and electronic forms of legal research; have excellent research and writing skills; be able to communicate the results of the research clearly both orally and in writing; and have excellent interpersonal and organizational skills. Full-time commitment (40 hours per week for 10 weeks) preferred but part-time considered. Flexible schedules available. Pay competitive with similar public interest opportunities. Positions opened until filled, but early application is encouraged.

To apply, mail or email a cover letter, resume, writing sample, and list of three references with current phone numbers to:

Donna Adkins, Academic Program Coordinator, Center for WorkLife Law, adkinsd@email.uchastings.edu

Career Tips

«The Inexperienced Interviewer»

By Pamela Hyland

“You may be surprised to learn that your interviewer could be dreading your interview as much as you are! Because often they aren’t trained to do interviews, some attorneys are intimidated by interviewing candidates. What do you do with an inexperienced interviewer? Here are a few tips.

When the questions don’t take up nearly the amount of time allotted for your interview, you can be left with an awkward silence. Take the initiative to fill that void by gracefully providing more information about yourself. For example, you could say, “Let me tell you a little more about my experience as an extern for Judge SoandSo; I learned so much about professionalism and clear communication from her!” and proceed to do so. Another tactic, if you have already expressed your main points, is to ask questions about the interviewer or her/his experience with the employer: “If you have no further questions for me, I have a few of my own. What drew you to this organization?” (or “What keeps you interested in this practice area?” or “How would you characterize the working environment here?”).

Sometimes, interviewers get off track, asking about unrelated topics that don’t offer you a chance to make the points that you hoped to make. At a convenient pause in the conversation, try saying something like: “Let me use this precious time to tell you a little more about my skills and abilities related to this job. I am really interested in working here!” This can be tricky, as you don’t want to cut off the conversation abruptly; wait for a significant break in the flow of conversation before gently changing the subject back to your qualifications for the job.

Some interviewers have distracting mannerisms that are hard to ignore. They may sit too close, or fidget, frequently check their watches, or doodle. Being alert to body language is important, as it may signal boredom or inattention on their part, but you don’t want to allow it to distract you. If your interviewer checks her watch frequently, ask if she has a deadline to meet and help her to complete the interview on time. If you notice fidgeting or doodling, you may not be “on point” with your answer – it’s best to stop, ask if you are answering the question as it was asked, and get back on track. If they have a different sense of personal space than you, you can try to ease your chair further back but, if that doesn’t work, try to ignore the mannerism and stay focused on your core message.

Interviewers who fill up the time with chat are often personable but can be frustrating for students who want a chance to discuss their qualifications. Here again, at a pause in the conversation, try to gently steer the interviewer back to the purpose of your visit. If the interviewer resists a topic change, follow their lead—and don’t be surprised if you get the call-back for having built up a good rapport with the interviewer!

Preparing your main points in advance and practicing what you want to say can help you to steer the conversation toward your goals as the interview progresses, making the interview experience a pleasure for both you and your inexperienced interviewer!
